Choice Control Products LLC is a producer and provider of high quality stand alone VAV air terminal units with or without factory installed and setup standalone wired or wireless controllers. They also mount and wire other provided controllers and actuators. Their complete range of VAV air terminal units from 4" to 24" with various insulation types and coils are available with our without fans.

Choice Controls also offers a complete line of unique control peripherals including actuators, control valves, sensors and switches for both wired and wireless application requirements. For standalone application they offer programmable controller with local schedule and on board temperature sensor. Direct Drive Factory installed electronic actuator with built in dynamic air volume sensor with LED read out of air volume in CFM
